WHITE FOR SPEAKER.

It Is Thought He Will Be Elected on the First Ballot.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 4-A caucus of the Republican members of the General Assembly has been called for next Tuesday evening for the purpose of electing a speak-er to succeed Jno. Meyer, deceased. Three avowed candidates are in the field, with several dark horses—Thos. B. Needles of Washington County, Wm. G. Cochran of Moultrie ington County, Wm. G. Cochran of Moultrie and Jno. M. White of Whiteside. Daniel Berry of Carroll, who was temporary Speaker during the thirty-ninth session, is also a candidate and is backed by the corporative influences. His arbitrary rulings during the regular session secured many enemies and he will be strongly opposed. He stands but little chance of being elected. Needles also was considered a corporation member during the last session, and has also made enemies. He is the present acting Speaker and will have many votes. Cochran has been Speaker of the Legislature, is a capable, safe and conservative man and will have a heavy following among the country members.

White, however, is probably the choice of the majority. He is one of the leaders of the House, dignified and consistent, and one of the best balanced men on the foor. Being from a country district, he will poll the almost united vote of the farmers and many city members. A hot fight has been waged for several months by the country members against the "boodis" element and the big four, which consisted of Speaker Meyer, Berry, Hawley and Needles. This fight will be carried into the coming cancus and will do more to elect a county member than anything else. White will receive some Democratic votes, Crafts will be nominated by the minority. The Republicans have a majority of Si in the House, and will easily elect the man named next Tuesday evening. The feeling now is that White will be elected on the first ballot.

All State officials and many members in the Legislature will attend the funeral of the late Speaker to-morrow at Freeport.

which was taken away from the Day Nursery at Seventeenth and Olive streets child to her in a few days. In talking of the young one's disappearance she at one moment blames Mrs. Owen, the matron of the Day Nursury, saying she allowed the child to be abducted. Then again Mrs. Peters admits that she talked privately with the two women who called at the Day Nursury and consented to their taking care of the baby. From the stories told by Mrs. Owens, Mrs. Peters and a photographer it appears that Mrs. Peters carelessly allowed the women to take her child without asking their names or addresses, and that Mrs. Owen is in no way responsible for the abduction.

Mrs. Peters' story is that Tuesday afternoon she was summoned to the Day Nursury, where she met two well-dressed women. They told her they wanted to take her child and care for it, and that she consented, provided they allowed her to see it occasionally. Mrs. Peters and the women then took the baby, which is only a months old, to the photographic establishment of J. L. Fitzgibbon, at 606 Olive street, where its picture was taken. The party then went to Berg's and after hungs some

MURDER MYSTERY

R.H. Stillwell Withdraws the Reward of $10,000.

FOLLOWING A NEW CLEW.

Expectation that the Real Criminal Will Be Run Down and Punished.

HANNIBAL, Mo., July 4.- The fact that R. H. Stillwell has just announced that he has withdrawn the reward of $10,000 offered by him for the apprehension and convic-tion of the murderer or murderers of his father, Amos J. Stillwell, has created a sensation and revived the story of the horrible tragedy that was enacted on the night of December 31, 1888, when the wealthy pork packer was killed in his own house. The motive that prompted Mr. Stillwell to withdraw the reward just at this stage is known only to himself. It is said that Mr that he no longer believes in the robber theory, and that he will now follow up a more plausible clew and will be rewarded for his trouble. In an interview with Mr. Stillwell to-day he said to the Post-Dispatch correspondent: "I will do anything in my power to bring the guilty to justice, no matter what it may be. Some day the people will know what my reasons are, and they will see that I am right, but I cannot make them public at present. I believe we will live long enough to see the murderer of my father punished." Mr. Stillwell has been accredited with placing obstacles in the way of the detectives and others in ferreting out the guilty party, and the above is his response to the question why he had done so. The Grand-jury will reconvene in Hannibal next Monday, and it is understood that they willderer of Amos J. Deposit of $10,210 in Bank to an Insane Woman's Credit. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 4.

Nev., has $10,210 deposited in the Hibernian Bank in this city which has remianed uncalled for for twenty-one years. In the meantime the bank officials have traced every woman of that name on the Pacific Coast and several Eastern States, only to find the real owner of the tiny fortune a feeble old woman of shattered intellect confined in a State institution.

In the early days of the mining excitement in Nevada Kate Welch was a noted woman among the mining camps and easily acquired the fortune now awaiting its proper or claimants. But Kate Welch's were numerous in those days, and the right one had several other names which she used as her fancy dictated. According to the discovery made, she left Lynn, Mass., in 1857 or 1868, and settled in Nevada. She went back to Lynn in 1870 in an endeavor to become reconciled with her husband. She remained there three months, though she failed in her mission. From Lynn she went to Boston and then came out to Caltifornia. On Feb. 21, 1880, she was adjudged. A possible heir has also been found in a man named John Buckley of St. Louis, who claims to be Per son. He lost sight of his mother some twenty-five years ago, when she left her home in Massachusetts, and had not heard of her since. As Kate Welch was a miden name, it is believed that Buckley may be able to establish his transport make a statement.

THE CHAMPION BATER.

Admits That He Was Run Out of Seven

NEW YORK, July 4.—X. Fink, a First avenue butcher, is the champion eater just now. Yesterday, on a bet, he started to eat 180 ripe apricots. He finished ninety and then went to sleep. He ate them with the skins on, and says there is opium in the skins which affected him.

"The trouble is that Fink is too bashful," said Mr. Strauss, a neighbor. "We had a Bartlett pear contest here and he ate ninety and then quit because the crowd was too large. He can't do his best when there are a lot of people staring him in the face."

"I'll bet that man can eat forty raw eggs, a bowl of soup and two corned beef sandwiches," said Mr. Goodman, another neighbor.

"I'd on't know about that," put in Cham-bor.

"I don't know about that," put in Champion Fink, modestly. "I never tried more than twenty eggs. Perhaps I could go thirty. I once drank three schooners of beer, ate twenty-five oysters and then drank a schooner of whisky. I drink twelve cups of coffee every day. Ordinarily I don't eat or drink to excess, although I have been put out of seven boarding houses."

FOUND DEAD IN THE LAKE.

Charles D. Sherwood, Ex-Lieutenant-Governor of Minnesota.

CHICAGO, July 4.—Charles D. Sherwood, ex-Lieut.-Governor of Minnesota, has been found dead floating in the lake at the foot of Peck Court. Mr. Sherwood came to Chicago last March to have a surgical operation performed. He was under the care of Dr. Hall of Grand Crossing. He left the Victor Hotel, where he had been stopping, and half an hour later his body was found in the water.

Twenty years ago Mr. Sherwood was one of the most prominent politicians in Minnesota. He came West from New Milford, Conn., his birthplace, in 1856, and settled at Rushford, Minn. He was a doctor by profession, but he abandoned that calling a few years later and took up the practice of law. As a lawyer Mr. Sherwood was one of the most successful in Minnesota. Mr. Sherwood entered politics early in life, and his rise was almost meteoric. After serving as Congressman from the Rushford district, he was twice elected Lieutenant-Governor of Minnesota. As President of the State Senate he was said to be the ablest parliamentarian of his time.

Some ten or fifteen years ago Mr. Sherwood went to Tennessee, where a town was named for him. His widow and two children live there now. He was president of a lime quarry near Sherwood, and owned Twenty years ago Mr. Sherwood was one Alger of Michigan in land speculation several years ago, and together they at one time owned large holdings in Tennessee and Minnesots. It is said that Mr. Sherwood acted as counsel for Gen. Alger for several years. George Sherwood, the well-known book publisher of this city, who died about a year ago, was a brother of the dead man. For the last six weeks Mr. Sherwood had been confined to his room most of the time.

Two Illinois Central switchmen first saw his body floating in the lake. Papers found on the dead man's clething served to identify him. A Coroner's jury gave a verdict of drowning, but whether Mr. Sherwood committed suicide or was drowned by accident the jury was unable to say.

When Mr. Sherwood's room was searched an old sliver watch was found on the bed. The time-piece had been given to him by Gen. Tom Thumb when the latter first came into public notice.

Egling says he had a current of 1,300 volts passed through his body without appreciable effect. He rubs the liquid into the skin over his heart and on the top of his head. Then he mixes the liquid with another ingredient and takes it internally. In aix minutes he becomes drowsy and is ready for the current. All animation is suspended, but he says he can hear. He has to take something afterwards to counteract the effect of the compound.

EVERYDAY PATRIOTISM.

Many people look upon patriotism as something connected wholly with deeds of heroism far removed from the ordinary experiences of peaceful and busy lives. enffering in the crises of national exist-

The view is erroneous. The men who signed the Declaration of Indeper 119 years ago and the men who fought to establish and maintain the principles it embodied displayed heroic patriotism because they risked their lives and fortunes for the welfare of their country. But patriotism did not die with the ac ment of their purposes. If it had, the American Republic would not be fit to live in. Every citizen since the Liberty Bell rang out its first message who in high or low station has consciously contributed to the progress and welfare of the people has done an act

The real strength of a nation lies not the every-day patriotism of which the people are capable. It is easy to do great things under the spur of glory, but hard to do little things for which no certain reward can be expected. It is the patient, constant patriotic work of the asses that achieves the highest desting and constitutes the true greatness of a

There never was a time when the Re public was more in need of every-day patriotism than now. There never was time when it was more necessary for citisens to meet public problems with single and minds bent upon the general welfare. There never was greate opportunity for the exercise of the high est patriotism in working out political and social questions to a just conclusion attractive forms to assail and under mine public spirit.

If the standard which the fathers of the Republic lifted up this day 119 years ago is to be maintained the hearts and hands of all good citizens must be enlisted in the cause of justice with re newed devotion.

The case is a typical one, as illustrating the conscienceless greed of som of the patriots who are fond of proclaim ing their services to the country. Justice Long has been for seven years a Judge of the Michigan Supreme Court, "per-forming a large amount of judicial work with great ability and success," and re-ceiving from the State a salary of $7,000 a year. Besides performing regularly the exacting duties of his office, he participates actively in campaigns, makin public addresses and otherwise showin exceptional mental strength and physics capacity. Before the Tanner regime he capacity. Before the Tanner regime he was on the pension list, if we remember aright, for $32 per month. Tanner raised his pension to $72 per month and in addition gave him several thousand dollars as back pay. He did this under the law which grants this highest ratio of pay those "who shall have been so permanity or utterly disabled as to require a regular, personal aid and attendance unother person, by the loss of both hands, or by the loss of both hands, or by the loss of both feet, or by any other injury resulting in total and permanent stances of Justice Long's work and pay as a Michigan judge to grade him as "utterly helpless," the present Commis-sioner of Pensions, who had also been a judge in Michigan, reopened the case and reduced the pension to 350 per month. Justice Long denied the authority of the Pension Commissioner to make this re-duction, and took the case into the courts, demanding a restoration of his duction, and took the case into the courts, demanding a restoration of his pension to $72 per month. The Court of Appeals decided that the Pension Commissioner has the power to make such a change as he made in this case. Justice Long hopes that the United States Supreme Court will decide that although he is able to earn $7,000 per annum as a Supreme Court Judge in Michigan, he is so "utterly helpless" as to be entitled to the highest pension rate of $72 per month.

It will surprise no one if the United States Supreme Court decides in his favor.

Next to the "silver craze" and the "free coinage lunacy" the favorite term of con-tempt among the gold men for the free silver sentiment is that it is "Populistic." Democrats who are in favor of free silver coinage are charged with going over to

In his letter approving the Memphis convention Senator Morgan wrote that when he entered the Senate twenty years ago he found Allen G. Populists? Have the masses of the Democratic party from the beginning of the Government until now been Populists?

The Populists took up the free silver whelming majority of the people of the West and South were in favor of it and dissatisfied with the old parties because they had not met the demand for the they had not met the demand for the restoration of free silver coinage. The Populists saw an opportunity to steal Democratic thunder and the best chance it has to become a party of strength and eventually victory is for the Republican party to remain under its present gold standard control and the Democratic party to be led into the gold camp by its Wall street wing.

by its Wall street wing. HOW TO CLOSE THE DIVES.

The best guarantee that has yet been immoral dives that infest the city is the refusal of Excise Commissioner Bell to renew the licenses of two saloons against which the police have made complaint.

The solution of the dive difficulty is in the hands of the Excise Commissioner. The law gives him ample power to rid the city of the dives and to keep it free from them. He can refuse to issue a keeper of bad reputation. He can revoke a license which has been abused for of cases. But the police and the Excise Commissioner together are invincible against the dives. If the police gather evidence and the Commissioner acts upon it, as in the case of the two saloohs mentioned, not a dive can be maintained in the city. This is a result the people of St. Louis for the Republicans of the House to measurably redeem their record. The Speakership is the key to the cor rupt combination which has controlled gislation and which is now engaged in a desperate attempt to defeat the efforts of Gov. Altgeld and the honest members of the Legislature to secure needed laws. This combination can be broken by the election of a clean and courageous Speaker who will support popular measures.

If the Republicans who claim to have good intentions are sincere in their pro of a Speaker and the reorganisation of the House for honest work is not im-possible. They can undoubtedly secure ization.

The election of a Speaker will be critical test of Republican purposes. It will show clearly whether or not the corrupt machine has absolute control of the Republican majority.

AN UNPROPITABLE STRIKE.

The report of the Illinois State Bureau of Labor Statistics is instructive on the subject of strikes.

The statistics of the great coal strike of last year are covered in the report. In that struggle 25,207 employes quit work, losing an average of 33.6 days each. The total loss of days, therefore amounted to 846,955, which, estimating a day's wages at $2, made the total loss of wages $1,693,910, or $67.20 for each man.

For this tremendous sacrifice there was scarcely any compensation. Of the strikers 53.2 per cent returned to work at fore the strike; 84.1 per cent resumed at a reduction and only 12.6 per cent secured an advance. In other words, 22,025 of the whole 25,207 strikers secured no advantage by their sacrifice

The statistics of the losses of the em-ployers are not available, but as a heavy stock of coal was mined in anticipation of the strike and the price of coal advanced because of it, the strike was probably profitable to most of them. There is no profit in strikes for the workingmen. Some less costly way than this of securing just treatment must be secured. The labor problem must be

MAPPITT AND THE CONVENTION.

From the Louisiana Press.

It really looks to us as if Charley Maffitt of St. Louis was monkeying with a large sized buss-saw.

From the Salem County Democrat.

Chairman Maffitt has shown the cloven foot in his last move to prevent the Democrats of the State from holding a convention and declaring for honest money. He expressly promised to call the convention if a majority of the County Chairman would request it, and now he sends them blanks to fill up and return to him. The blanks require chairmen to reconvene their County Committees, even those which have already by convention requested the State Convention to be called. His action is an insult to the Democrats of the State. But it is due him to say he is hypnotised by Dave Francis and personally not responsible for what he does or says.

From the Nevada Post. Chairman Maffitt is not pursuing the course which is to the best interests of the Democratic party of the State. The masses of the party have signified a desire to speak and the opportunity should be granted.

From the Excelsior Springs Journal.

The prevailing sentiment in the Democratic party is for a silver convention, and if Chairman Marint of the State Committee don't call it some one else will. Nearly every county in the State is demanding it, and one should be called.

From the Kahoka Gasette-Herald.

Members of the State Committee keep declaring that they are willing to call a State Silver Convention as soon as they become satisfied that a majority of the party in the State wants it. Only a "wooden man" or "gold bug" could fall to detect the almost nanimous sentiment in favor of silver image which pervades the Democracy of Missouri as expressed in nearly every county, city or township meeting that has been

From the Marshall Democrat-News.

Let the proposed Democratic State Convention be held by all means. Missouri has been cruelly, willfully and ideliberately misrepresented by alleged close statesmen and Cabinet impossibilities until the Democrats of the State are incensed past tame endurance. On last Saturday six other counties, declared for a State Convention. counties declared for a State Convention and placed themselves upon record as favoring the free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1. This leaves but two to be heard from favorably to make the majority, and then if the State Committee still persists in voting with John Sherman's Fridays the world will be apprised of the sentiments

From the Iron County Register.

Dave Francis doesn't want a State Convention; the common Democrats do. Mr. Maffitt is much closer to Dave than to the Democratic rank and file, and a whispe from the one catches his ear more quickly than the loudest protests of the many. But look out, Charley! It's going to thunde pretty soon! Call that convention before mands of Consumers. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 4.—A joint committee from the Council, the Commercial Club and the Board of Trade has been investigating the natural gas question on complaint of the Consumers' Gas Trust to the Council that it would be able to furnish natural gas only a short time longer unless an ordinance was passed providing for the sale of gas by meter measurement. The committee has made a report and among other things save:

of gas by meter measurement. The committee has made a report and among other things says:

"It cannot be doubted the supply of gas is rapidly diminishing. The demand made upon the field is large. Four separate lines lead into this city, while from every city in the territory, from Crawfordsville to Lafayette on the west to its eastern boundary, from Fort Wayne on the north to Rushville on the south, not to speak of the line to Chicago and one into Ohlo with large quantities used by manufactories and by cities for public lighting and by the use of flambeaux along the public highways and by individual persons, there is a great draft upon the reservoir of this most useful fuel. Data show fields in Ohlo and Pennsylvania have already been exhausted and the wells in the Indiana territory, where in use, have a largely diminished pressure, while many have falled altogether, and new wells drilled in territory already tapped by gas wells do not have the same pressure that wells in the same territory originally had. The day is not far distant, if not already at hand, when pumping stations will be required in order to force the gas through the pipes to consumers."

Figures are given to show that at the present rate of diminished pressure of the gas; it will take about four years yet to practically sap the gas belt.

How to Make Attar of Roses.

How to Make Attar of Roses.

Use the fragrant petals of flowers of the same season. Roses and jasmine, with a small quantity of sweetbriar and mignomette, make a nice mixture. There must be a greater quantity of rose leaves than of all the others together.

Spread the petals on a layer of cotton, which has been dipped in the finest Florence or Lucca oil, and sprinkle over them a little fine sait. Lay on another sheet of cotton, and add petals and sait as before; repeat this with a layer of the oiled cotton between each layer of petals until you have filled a china bowl or a wide-mouthed jar. The a bladder closely over all, and place the vessel in the sun, if under a garden forcing glass all the better.

In about fifteen days remove the bladder and squeeze the cotton and petals, when a fragrant oil will be expressed resembling the high-priced attar of roses sold by druggists. The bottle into which this oil is squeezed must be corked up immediately. A bottle with a glass stopper is best for the purpose. If cork is used, the a piece of bladder over it.

The Shahzada Hires His Dancing Done.

The Shahada Aires his Dancing Done. The Shahada, says Woman, cannot understand why English ladies and gentlemen lower and trouble themselves by doing what he considers should be done for them by menials; he refers to dancing. This is a new aspect of ball-giving. Perhaps the day will come when London hostesses will invite their guests to look on at the dancing of hired waiters and borrowed housemalds instead of knocking one another about and getting unnecessarily warm.

Wall Curtains. A pretty fashion has been introduced dately of a wall curtain hanging at the back of a divan or an upright piano. These curtains, of course, must be made to afford an agreeable contrast to the walls on which they hang. The Decorator and Furnisher describes them as about a yard and a quarter deep and a little more than two

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE Government Should Issue All Money.

From the Sedalia Democrat.

It is estimated that several members of the State Committee are in favor of nominating candidates for State offices at the proposed convention. In all probability the report was originally started by the opponents of the convention for the purpose of arraying prospective candidates against the movement, or if it is seriously considered, it is with the view of playing the nominations against the platform, as was done in Kentucky. But in either case the scheme will fail. One of the strongest reasons for desiring a State Convention is that the party's position on the silver question may be decided, and no other question is involved, and when the other question is involved, and when the other question is involved, and when the possible by the substitution of paper for the precious metals as the material for money, the reasons why the issuance of this money should be made a government function becomes still stronger.

Yet, instead of doing what every public consideration impels us to, and assuming wholly and fully as the exclusive function of the general government the power to issue paper money, the private interests of bankers, up to this, compelled us to the use of a hybrid currency, of which a large part, though guaranteed by the general government, is issued and made profitable to corporations.

The legitimate business of banking—the safe keeping and loaning of money and the making and exchange of credits, is properly left to individuals and associations; but by leaving to them, even in part and under restrictions and guarantees, the issuance of money, the people of the United States suffer an annual loss of millions of dollars, and sensibly increase the influences which exert a corruptive effect upon their government.

Beam Co. Mr. Slattery, who was a director, had, prior to my purchase of stock, offered a motion giving Schoen and Pungs each a salary of $5,000 a year, and the motion was carried. When I stepped into control of the company I was modest enough to take both offices and both salaries—$10,000 a year. Slattery is sore over this.

"At the time I became president and general manager of the American Brake Beam Co. in March, 1846. Frank Agler, Slattery's son-in-law, was western sale agent of the company, with headquarters in Chicago. He became ill and I gave him a vacation. But business became active, he was still not able to work, and I discharged him. Slattery is 'sore' over this.

"Now, Slattery has worked up a suit against myself and the other managers of the American. We have our central beam manufactured by the Michigan Railway Supply Co. in Detroit. That company has special machinery, patented, to manufacture that beam. It could close its doors and the American Brake Beam Co. would lose thousands of dollars, because the central beam cannot be manufactured elsewhere. My plan is to buy this plant for two for the stockholders. So Slattery induced some Boston and Detroit stockholders in the American Brake Beam Co. to enter suit for an injunction enjoining the company from buying the Michigan Railway Supply Co.'s plant. But I am informed that the suit will likely be dismissed. This is the story of the brake beam interests."

It will be noticed by the careful reader that Judge Laughlin still holds his stock in the National Hollow Brake-beam Co. This company's patents and good will are leased to the Chicago Railway Equipment Co., which has leased the National Hollow Brake-beam Co, which has leased the National Hollow Brake-beam Co, he is fighting against his other interest in the Hollow brake-beam Co, which has leased the National Hollow Brake-beam Co, he is fighting against his other interests to the Hollow brake-beam interests can both make money.

But through Slatery's energy the American brake-beam combine was formed to crush out the National Hollow Brake-beam Co., in which Judge Laughlin, whom he dislikes, is largely interested. The combine manufactures also the Universal brake-beam, which is Blattery's patent, and which Laughlin claims is an infringement on the Hollow brake-beam. Judge Laughlin thus steps in and buys a controlling interest in and becomes President of the very combine which manufactures Slattery's beam, and which was organized by Slattery to fight him.

Mr. Sturgeon, who recommended the discharge, was present. He explained that his idea was not to lessen the number of positions in the park department, but to give Mr. Ridgely an opportunity to use the park policemen to better advantage. You are my neighbor and you say
That always you'd befriend me;
That anything you'd do one day—
To prove it—would you lend me?

However much I pleaded,
And friends, I find, give all like you

Thank heaven, I'll do without it;
I have a friend I've not forgot—
I'll tell you all about it!

WASHINGTON, July 4.—In selecting Fore-caster Moore to succeed Prof. Härrington, Secretary Morton simply reasoned that last year, out of ten candidates in a competitive examination for a weather bureau professorship, Moore stood the highest.

"He called the turn," as the Secretary expressed it, "day after day on the toughest winter we ever had." Them, again, last March, Moore foretold 130 cold-air waves, and 115 arrived on time. He warned Florida of the cold snap last December, and although the snap brought ruin, the prophecy was regarded as remarkable. He took good care of the West also, by predicting twenty-seven sure enough storms near Lake Michigan out of thirty guesses. This proof that he was not sectional and knew a bad streak of weather before he saw it, together with the facts that he never went to college and was brought up in a job printing office, caused Secretary Morton to warm to him and to recommend his appointment as Weather Prophet-in-Chief.

The Secretary did not stop to ask Moore how he foretells the weather. It is suspected that Mr. Morton believes that Moore either has a corn, is subject to rheumatism, or discovered while a printer the effect of approaching disturbance upon printers ink and keeps some in his pocket.

A member of the family speaking of Col. Priest's change of faith said: "While he was reared in the Episcopal Church he has not been in communion with it as a member of any of its parishes. His wife and children are Catholics and he has had a leaning that way. He and Fr. Phelan are warm personel friends and they often discussed religion."

Col. Priest is mending and his recovery is now confidently expected.

COLLAZO IN NEW YORK.

He Has Successfully Piloted Several Cuban Expeditions.

NEW YORK, July 4.—The World this morning says: Enrique Collaze, who has successfully piloted several expeditions to Cuba, is in the city. He came secretly, with his brother, Tomas, from Tampa, Fia., last Monday, but their presence here was not made public until last night. They have been in consultation with Gen. Rafael De Quesada and Gonzale De Quesada. It is thought they have come to arrange for the largest expedition yet sent to Cuba, this being a favorable time to start one, as the insurgents are making rapid advances into the western part of the Island.

WELLS STATION VAUDEVILLE.

Wrong Impression as to the Garden
Corrected Upon Investigation.

The al fresco vaudeville at Wells Station, under the management of Mr. D. Jannopoulo has, by reason of recent incorrect statements, suffered a wrong. Because of some untoward occurrences between officers guarding the railroad out and hasty-tempered citizens there has arisen the impression that the garden was not a desirable place to visit. This, upon investigation, proves untrue. The entertainment is of a high character, none better in the city of its kind, and Mr. Jannopoulo is giving the place his personal supervision at all times, assures proper treatment to visitors, among whom he now counts many of the best people of the city.

The entertainment of the present week is especially good, including Prof. Abt with some very fine dissolving views; Zeno, a most remarkable contortionist; Gilbert Saronay, female impersonator, and Dixon Bowers and Dixon in a funny musical sketch.

lessness and sometimes through the carelessness or mischievousness of others. The City Dispensary has been busy all day and the clerks in the police stations are getting writer's cramp from making out reports. The bicycle field is the only man on the street to-day who is happy. He can run fast enough to get away from explosions and his steed don't shy.

STRANGE MIXTURE. Milton Meyer Horribly Burned by Patriotism, Generosity and Moral Obtism, generosity and a dense mosess are three striking characte opaqueness are three striking characteristics in the make-up of 8-year-old Mike Sturms of 1863 Menard street. On July 1 he stole 33 from Mrs. Albert Burda, who lives at the same number. Two dollars of this he gave to Willy Suchy, a chum, living at 1033 Geyer avenue, and the other dollar he gave to another chum, Herman Nankmann, of 1861 Menard street. Every cent of the 33 was "blown in" on fire crackers. The police arrested the Sturms boy, but as the parents of the youngsters consented to give a dollar each to Mrs. Burda there will be no prosecution.

AT THE CITY DISPENSARY.

Fourth of July Brings its Usual Ac-companiment of Burns.

When Dr. Newcomb showed up at the city Dispensary at 7 o'clock Thursday morning he found several disabled patriots waiting for him with mangled hands, burned faces and various injuries. They were all attended to, but others came as fast as they left, and when Dr. Mack arrived at 9 o'clock both physicians were kept busy patching up patriotism.

Pat Montague, an employe of the Crumm Livery Co., was trying to get off a Sixth street electric car and watch a small boy shoot a cannon firecracker at the same time. Pat slipped from the platform of the car and feli on the corner of Sixth and Spruce streets with a joit which badly lacerated his head and sprained his right and expenses of the car and feli.

The Small Boy Has His Usual Admixture of Pain and Trouble.

The irrepressible small boy is having his fourth of July troubles along with his fun. It is the same old story again of burned faces and bilistered hands, many of the accidents being trivial and some serious.

Despite the orders of Acting Mayor Nagel to the police department and the efforts of Chief Harrigar's minions to anforce the city ordinance forbidding the discharge of fineworks before sunrise on the Fourth, the town was humming and booming long before must have staid up all night, for the records above accidents in the wee small boys were not the only ones who suffered. Grown-up persons caught it occasionally, sometimes through their own care.

Shot in the Wrist. The Fourth of July fool is responsible for a painful wound in the right wrist of syear-old Clara Kracht of 3325 North Twenty-third street. Clara was playing in the back yard when a 22-caliber bullet fired by some unknown person came whizzing through the fence and struck her. The bullet was extracted. The wound is painfal, but not dangerous.

Killed by a Rocket Stick. At Twenty-second and Pine streets
Wednesday night several persons were sitting in front of a saloon when a large sky-rocket stick shot down to the pavement. A small black and tan dog passing at the time was struck by the stick on the back and its body pierced, killing it almost instantly.

Played With a Toy Cannon. Charley Feiton, 10 years old, was playing with a toy cannon at his home, 518 Garrison avenue, when it exploded, badly powder burning his face and left eye.

The Kentuck-lans are, on the contrary, in fine spirits and express confidence in their ability to hold their own with any of their rivals. They attribute many of their defeats to hard luck and rough deals by the umpires all along the line. The illness of Pitcher Inks, the Freffer trouble, the rebellion of Glasscock, the desertion of Brouthers and the figury of some of their best players at times have been factors in their reverses. "We are in beet shape now than we have ever been and our record at home during the second Western trip of the Eastern teams will prove it," said Mansger McCloskey Thurshay. Doesn't that seem strange? Cincinnati went East, played the same number of games that we did, and won just the same number: but every time they were beaten they were wailoped badly. We went out on the field and played those much-vaunted Eastern clubs to a standstill, and yet, notwithstanding our position in the race, were given the hot-foot on every close decision. Base Ball Notes.

Perry Werden has resigned the captaincy of the Minneapolis team. The big fellow is playing great ball.

Sunday base ball is getting many a black eye in the West. There is a strong movement to abolish it in the National League after this season.

Many a man would be dreading blood poisoning if he had George Miller's sore finger in stock. The "Midget" never minds it, but goes on playing as though the never had a bruise.

Young Walter Clarkson, a brother of John and Arthur of League fame, will enter Harvard College in the fall and may occupy the box for the Harvard team next summer. Walter has had three years' experience with the Cambridge High School team.

Frank Genins, the St. Louis boy, who made such a wonderful showing with Sloux City last season, has proved himself a very valuable utility man for Pittsburg this season. He has been used both in the in and outfield and his work in every game has been first-class.

Fred Ely, who has an interest with his brothers in a hardware store at Girard, Pa., is thinking of retiring from the game, in order to give his attention to his business. The Browns cannot afford to lose this great player.

Dan Stuart, President of the Florida Athletic Club, claims that the refusal of Comptroller Findlay to issue a license for the "mill" at Dallas will not stop the fight, He has an elaborate opinion from some of the leading lights of Texas sustaining the right of the club to bring off the affair. The construction of the amphitheater will be begun at once and it is claimed that public sentiment is with the club. The Texas officials have not yet announced that the fight will not be allowed, but the law and order element claims that the machinery of the law will be invoked to prevent it.

English and American Universities May Meet Singlehanded.

May Meet Singlehanded.

LONDON, July 4.—At the conclusion of the university tests W. J. Oakley, President of the Oxford Athletic Club, said:

"The question of Yale's challenge now rests with Cambridge."

Subsequently the representatives of Oxford and Cambridge met and considered Yale's proposals. At the close of the meeting the following official statement was issued:

"The committee decides that as Harvard refused to afree to their part in the original proposal, it would not be desirable for Oxford and Cambridge to meet Yale single handed, which decision the committee regrets in view of the sportsmanlike proposal of Yale.

"As any other American combination

"As any other American combination seems under the circumstances to be impossible, it now only remains for Cambridge as the winner of to-day's contest, to decide whether she can consider Yale's challenge. This they propose to do immediately, and will communicate their decision at the earliest possible date. Yale's proposed date is too late for the Cambridge October term."

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

VENICE, Ill., July 4—The Village Board of Madison met Tuesday night and passed the annual appropriation ordinance, appropriating 310,880 for corporate purposes. The race track license ordinance was defeated. Miss Mamie Squire died at the home of her mother, Mrs. Anna Squire, last Monday night of consumption. The funeral will take place to morrow to Calvary Cemetery. The body of the boy drowned in the river near the ferry landing on the 23d inst. was recovered yesterday and an inquest held. He was the son of a barber living at 3233 North Broadway, St. Louis.

A large attendance is expected at the celebration to be given by the Chas. Pope Cornet Band at Public School Park to-day.

The Pope glucose works are being put in shape for resumption of work, which is expected to begin in about two weeks.

SHE WAS A KICKER.

But Her Foot Slipped and Her Arm Broke.

Broke.

It was not patriotic exuberance or anything like that which put Mary Living ston's arm in a sling. Bottled beer at Elper bottle and a desire to please the sportive gentlemen who were paying for it are directly responsible for the mishap.

Mary is an inmate of Mollie Hart's maison de joie on Locust street. Callers were numerous Wednesday night, it being Fourth of July eve. A fine bunch of "good people" blew along toward morning and the beer flowed freely.

Mary is an artist at high kicking. The beer was bet that she couldn't hit the chandeller.

She kicked at it faithfully enough, but while her right foot was up in the air her left foot slipped out from under her and down she came, breaking her left arm. She was taken to the City Dispensary, where the arm was dressed. She then went home. Sims Acquitted and Sawyer Officially Cheap Rates Via Burlington Boute

"At t' time we dropped these men," said
Mr. L: "we were advised by a written that their four-year term, for which all police officers are appointed, had expired, and that the suit is brought for political effect."

Monday night Dunkin was found with a bullet hole in his head in the alley between Olive and Locust and Twelfth and Thirteenth streets. As none of the man's jeweiry were found on his body it was at first supposed that he had been assaulted by footpads and murdered, but the evidence adduced at the inquest established the theory of suicide. Dunkin wished to make his wife believe that he was in a flourishing financial condition, while in reality he was dead broke. Despondency over his condition is supposed to have been the motive for the suicide. with a bullet hole in his head in the aller

A Practical Joke Ends Joe Simms' Pugilistic Aspirations.

Joseph Simms, 19 years old, who is employed as office boy by the Gus V. Brecht Butchers' Supply Co., considers himself a pugilist. Some of his fellow employes put puglist. Some of his fellow employes put up a joke on him to puncture his puglistic proclivities. A bogus letter was written and addressed inviting him to come to Little Rock to appear in a sparring match with Daniel Foley. The address of a Fourth street ticket broker was inclosed, and from him Joe was to get his transportation. The clerk was taken into the secret, and Simms was given an expired ticket. It was refused at the Union Station.

Joseph hastened back to the broker's office. The latter, not knowing about the arrangement with his clerk gave the youth a good ticket. Simms went to Little Rock, but found no Foley and no sparring match. Joseph was obliged to wire his employer, Manager Nolkening, for funds to return.

When confronted with Voorhis in the Chief of Police's office yesterday, he positively identified her on account of the waist she wors, a plaid of the Rob Roy pattern. Emma demies the charge and says that she can prove an alibi.

A three-story stone front brick structure occupies the site where in 1871 stood the O'Leary cottage. The structure is used as a flat building. The place owes its interest to nothing but the fact that the great Chicago fire originated there. That the story of Mrs. O'Leary's cow and the lamplaughed at by some—is true, is vouched for by the Chicago Historical Society. Upon a large stone in the front of the house at 137 De Koven street appears these words: "The great fire of 1871 originated here and extended to Lincoln Park. Chicago Historical Society, 1881."

GOING TO GEORGIA

Closing the Land Deal for the Propo Colinization Scheme.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 4.- The projectors of the Georgia colonization scheme of which P. H. Fitzgerald of this city i jectors of the Georgia colonization scheme, of which P. H. Fitzgerald of this city is the head, have arranged to meet in Tifton. Ga., next Wednesday to close the deal for 125,000 acres of land. Mr. Fitzgerald says that 12,000 heads of families have already taken 3,000 shares, representing $380,000 of the proposed $500,000 capital stock, and that all of the reports showing the subscriptions of stock have not been compiled. No more new members will be admitted after July 10, as there are already enough to take all the stock without increasing the holdings of each person to more than ten shares, which is the original limit.

The project began as a scheme for old soldiers, but it has since included many others. The subscribers come largely from the Northwest. There are many from Indiana. The projector says that the subscribers are not poor as a rule, and that there are many interested who would be glad to subscribe large amounts, but who are barred by the ten-share limit. The purpose of the colony, as explained in some of the literature it has circulated, is, "To make a colony, built up by acommunity of good people, whose sole object is to better their condition and live in a mild climate." the land will be employed, the land will be occupied, the other to be reserved for the benefit of those remain faithful.

The Government refuses to discuss the trouble with the French in Amapa and has established a strict censorship over all news from there. At a secret session of the Argentine Congress it was voted to purchase from Italy the sister warship to the Garibaidi, which was recently launched. NEW YORK'S EXCISE LAW.

There Is Some Talk of an Extra Session to Change It.

Special to The Post-Dispatch the excise law Sundays has stirred up peo-ple in the most remarkable fashion. Eyen men who never think of entering a saloor are pointing out a great many contradictory things about it. Others are talking of an extra session of the Legislature to change the law. The police authorities are aghast at the liberal interpretation being given by the new magistrates of the law allowing hotels to sell drinks with meals. The case of the hotel men rests largely on the defini-tion of the words "guest" and "meal," and dictionaries are playing unexpected star parts in police courts just new. One case has been adjourned until Monday to allow all dictionaries to be placed on the stand.

TWO MURDERERS TRACKED.

A Man and His Wife Accused of Slaying an Old Bachelor.

NEW YORK, July 4 .- On board the Clyde Line steamship Algonquin, which reached her pier at 1 o'clock this morning, were two prisoners who have figured in one of the most sensational murder cases that have occurred in recent years. They are Thomas Gray and his wife, Betty Gray, both Canadians. The murder for which they are to be tried was committed in Canada, tives, who traced them to Florida. The detectives told the story as follows:

David Scollie, the murdered man, lived in the little hamlet of Peterborough in the Province of Ontario. He was a bachelor, well advanced in years, owning a large farm and very well to do. Near him lived farm and very well to do. Near him lived the Gray family, Thomas, wife and six children. One day, it seems, Mrs. Gray persuaded her husband to make old man Scollie a proposition that he give to the Grays the use of the farm which he owned, they in return to care for him during the rest of his natural life.

The lonesome old bachelor readily assented. Mrs. Gray is alleged to have said to her sister, a Mrs. McGregor, who lived near by, that she believed it would be no harm to kill the man. Mrs. McGregor was shocked, and told her sister so. Mrs. Gray replied: "Suppose I kill him and then burn the house, who will know anything about it."

the house, who will know anything about it?"

About a year after the alleged conversation the McGregors were aroused at 2 o'clock in the morning by one of the Gray children knocking at the door. The child said her mother had sent her to say the house was on fire. Mr. McGregor hurried to the blazing building and met Mrs. Gray on the road. She had a bundle under her arm and tried to persuade McGregor not to venture into the burning house. He did, however, and aided by her neighbors, found the body of Scoille. Flames had not reached it, but the head had been severed and was missing. It is now believed it was in the bundle which the woman had under her arm.

bundle which the woman had under her arm.

It appears that none of these suspicious circumstances which led to the death of Scoille came out until the insurance people began an investigation. They found that the house had been insured for five times its actual value, but they did not discover that until the Grays had collected the insurance, disposed of the farm and disappeared.

Detective Murray was placed on the case, and for nearly a year he was endeavoring to find the fugitives. He at last located them in Florida, and found them in hiding flear Ocals.

The detective, with his assistants, will take the prisoners to Canada to-day. Gray and his wife have been indicted for arson and murder in the first degree.
